Kala Art Institute is now accepting applications for the 2004 Kala Fellowship Award Competition. Five to eight artists will each receive a Fellowship consisting of:

a $2,000 cash award

six consecutive months of free residency at Kala Art Institute

24/7 access to Kala's printmaking workshop and electronic media center exhibition of artwork created during the residency in a group show at the Kala Gallery

Applicants will be judged on conceptual creativity, originality and artistic excellence as well as technical familiarity with traditional printmaking and/or digital media.

Fellowships are awarded to artists who have produced innovative work in printmaking, digital, sound or video arts, and have a keen interest in expanding their technical repertoire through access to Kala's printmaking, photo-process, letterpress, computer and video editing equipment. Artists with experience combining computer graphics with techniques such as lithography, intaglio, relief printing and book arts are encouraged to apply. The Fellowship does not include housing.
