HI, HOW ARE YOU? Sharing Neighbor Stories

Commons Archive Roundtable Conversation :: 06/03/2021

Video Outline

TIMESTAMP	INFO/QUOTE
00.00.00	Event introduction Mayumi Hamanka introduces discussion
00:03:14	Sue Mark introduces Commons Archive
00:07:31	Miyuki Baker grounds event with land acknowledgement
00:10:46	Miyuki provides thinking/writing prompt: What do I want to feel/know/do as a result of this conversation, on our experience as neighbors and with neighborhood collaborations?
00:14:18 - 00:14:47	Collective deep breath
00:15:39	Saturu Ned Self-Introduction
00:18:07	Shikira Porter Self-Introduction
00:19:35	Heidi Herrera Self-Introduction
00:21:56	Leo Mercer Self-Introduction
00:23:19	Toby Lewis Self-Introduction
00:28:24	Sue Mark Self Introduction

00:31:22	Miyuki Baker Self Introduction
00:34:02	Toby Lewis: Overview of North Oakland micro-granting program in development with Commons Archive
00:36:00	Saturu Ned's response, offering a historical perspective from before the 1970s when Oakland's population was 60-70% Black & the origins of the Black Panther Party
00:42:43	Shikira Porter comments on the block grant design process that brings neighbors in as co-creators
00:44:41	Saturu Ned: Each One Teach One
00:44:50	Sue Mark reflects on her learning about scales of community and ways neighbors do and don't interact with neighborhood groups
00:49:25	Saturu Ned responds to the necessity of taking time to build relationships and community-level change
00:51:26	Miyuki Baker's next question: With the pandemic, how have you adapted and stayed the course? What has helped you to stay connected and committed to this change work?
00:52:29	Leo Mercer response focusing on local unsheltered communities and neighbors, and the harm caused by gentrification
00:55:26	Saturu Ned responds to Leo Mercer: it is critical to listen to each other, identify different perspectives
00:56:23	Leo Mercer comments on his support work for unhoused neighbors
00:57:43	Shikira Porter comments on the work she does with unhoused families and systems change
00:58:49	Saturu Ned responds to Shikira's thoughts about how COVID is shifting relationships
01:05:05	Heidi Herrrera reflects on her experiences with the slowness induced by pandemic conditions
01:04:10	Miyuki Baker comments on the panelists' ideas
01:04:47	Toby Lewis highlights the lessons she's learned, especially around trust-building
01:06:41	Leo Mercer talks about challenges of self-preservation and communication within and among different communities

01:11:05	Toby Lewis talks about how to assess neighbor participation in different engagement actions
01:12:13	Sue Mark comments on the relationship between self-preservation and risk-taking with neighbors
01:14:09	Heidi Herrrera talks about her different experiences in engaging with neighbors based on training from Anti-Racist Trauma Informed Care workshop
01:16:28	Miyuki Baker shares questions from the chat and wraps up the conversation
01:18:22	Saturu Ned's closing comments
01:19:34	Shikira Porter's closing comments
01:20:20	Sue Mark's closing comments
01:22:17	Heidi Herrera's closing comments
01:23:34	Toby Lewis' closing comments
01:24:34	Leo Mercer's closing comments "It is our duty to fight for our freedom. It is our duty to win. We must love and support each other and we have nothing to lose but our chains." Assata Shakur
	-END-